

The Grove
PRIMARY SCHOOL

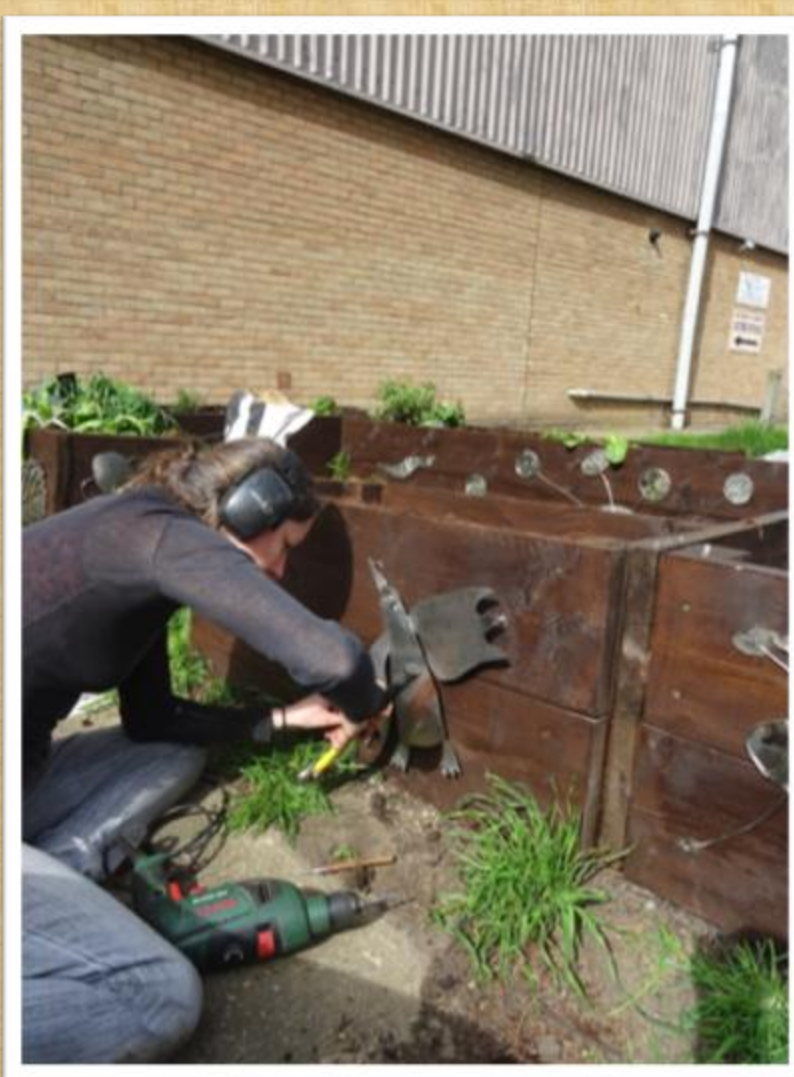

Since last November, Cambridge Growing Spaces has been bringing together children from The Grove Primary School and their enthusiastic teachers, community development officer Hilary Cox, and local artist Jayne Ruffell-Ward. Their joint effort to decorate the raised beds invites us to awareness of the local wildlife and brings innocence and beauty to a stark urban landscape.

Observing, reflecting, creating:
the children very much enjoyed a series of workshops on sustainability facilitated by Hilary.

Inspired by the children's drawings, Jayne designed amazing steel-welded sculptures...

...then attached them onto the raised beds.
Have a look outside for the final result!

With the support of the Cambridge City Council Public Art Grant